54. - 58. sorularda, verilen durumda söylenmiş olabilecek sözü bulunuz.

54. You have decided to study gastronomy at university and your parents have said it is the worst decision you could ever make. Although you feel you're going to be very happy studying the art of cooking, their strong opposition makes you feel worried about your decision. You are curious what your closest friend thinks about this. You say: ----

- A) Do you think I should take a firm stand and do whatever I want to do?
- B) What would you say if your parents wanted you to study gastronomy instead of engineering?
- C) Do you think anyone would mind if I studied medicine instead of gastronomy?
- D) What is your attitude to the idea of quitting university to start working?
- E) What would you say if I told my parents I want to give up my career as a cook?

55. A close friend of yours has been saying she wants to divorce her husband, which you think is not a good idea. One day she comes and says she is confused and she wants to delay her decision for a while and you think this is the most reasonable thing that she can do. You say: ----

- A) I'm so glad to hear that you have finally decided to get a divorce.
- B) Thank God! I'm very happy to see that you have got rid of him.
- C) The most reasonable thing that you can do at this very moment is to say him goodbye.
- D) You've no idea what a relief it is to hear that you have finally started to think logically.
- E) It is true that we have had some rough times but I don't want a life without you.

56. There is a boy that a friend of yours has been impressed with very much, although you think he is not the boy she deserves to be with. She is not sure whether she should reveal her feelings. You want her to keep away from him but you want her to see what a loser he is by spending some time with him. You say: ----

- A) That's a real improvement but you still seem to have a long way to go before you can stand on your own feet.
- B) He seems quite alright but if I were you, I would turn his offer down.
- C) You have been together for quite a while. Why don't you tell him yourself?
- D) You know how much I hate him, so you shouldn't be surprised to see that I've let him go.
- E) You must be brave enough to express your feelings. What have you got to lose?

57. Your flatmate says he wants to move to a flat in the city centre, which will obviously increase his expenses as well as yours because of the fact that you will have to meet all the expenses by yourself after he leaves instead of sharing them with him as you have been doing for quite a long time. You try to sound more understanding than you actually want to be and say: ----

- A) You can compare the two options and make a reasonable decision. The choice is yours.
- B) I'm afraid I won't be able to help you with that. You are on your own.
- C) I've told you many times how I feel about her, so I had better keep quiet.
- D) I wish I could be more understanding but I have to tell you what I actually think.
- E) That's the weirdest plan I have ever heard. Why should you leave and start to live in the city centre?
